

WEST LOVELL

The people of the community were surprised and saddened Thursday morning to hear of the passing away of Mrs. Hattie Noble, at a little before midnight, Wednesday evening, Oct. 10. She had been troubled for years with heart trouble but had been able to get around a great deal for the summer, taking long auto rides which she enjoyed and attended the movies and other social places and attended the fairs the week before her death. She had kept house for her son, George, several years, but three days before her death, they moved to Chester Emery's to board as her health failed rapidly.

She was twice married, first to W. Stanley Fox and second to Fred Noble. She is survived by five sons, Isaac, George and Daniel Fox of this town, Albert W. Fox of Pittsburg and Fred M. Fox of New Castle, Pa.; a daughter, Anna, wife of C. Roy Harte of Cambridge, Mass., a grandson, Albert Fox, and great grandson, Albert Fox, of Columbus, Ohio, and two grandsons, Jimmy Quinby and Gordon Harte, of Cambridge, Mass. Two brothers, Daniel and Zacheus McAllister, and many other relatives and friends attended the funeral which was held Sunday at 2 p. m., and attended by all her near relatives and neighbors. The services were conducted by Ernest Hatch and Rev. Mr. Cross of the Congregational Church spoke words of comfort to the sorrowing ones. C. D. Lord, Alexander Laroque, M. A. Sargent and Charles Merrill were bearers. A profusion of flowers covered the casket, tokens of love from many friends. Burial at West Lovell cemetery.

Merton A. Lord and wife and daughter came from Rumford, Sunday, after his father and mother, to stop a while with them. Those from away who came to attend the funeral of Mrs. Hattie Noble were Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Fox, Bridgton; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Laroque, Conway; Mr. and Mrs. C. Roy Harte and two sons, Cambridge, Mass.; Albert W. Fox, Pittsburg, Pa., and Fred M. Fox, New Castle, Pa.

Elmer Wood was at her home in Kittery over the week end. Orlando Allard and wife are on a wedding trip to her former home, Malden, Mass. Wendall McAllister has graded up the family lot in the West Lovell cemetery. Augustus Fox has finished work for Mrs. Lyons at Boulder Brook and is at home. Alexander Laroque has been cutting bushes on the highway but is picking his apples now.

Lesson for October 21
CHRISTIAN STEWARDSHIP

LESSON TEXT—II Cor. 8:1-15; 9:7, 8.
GOLDEN TEXT—First gave their own selves to the Lord.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Glad Giving.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Glad Giving.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—
What Is God's Claim on Us?
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—
Principles of Christian Stewardship.

1. Examples of True Christian Benevolence (II Cor. 8:1-5).
The liberality of these Macedonian churches exhibits practically every grand principle and motive which enter into the giving which has God's sanction. Observe:

1. The source of true giving (v. 1). This is said to be the grace of God by which is meant that the disposition to give freely of our means is a discipline created by the Holy Spirit. This puts the Christian giving on a much higher plane than that which urges the people under the bondage of the law to give a tenth.

2. They gave from the depths of their poverty, not from the abundance of their riches (v. 2).

Their limited means did not cause them to restrict their gifts, but their deep poverty abounded unto the riches of their liberality. On the basis of this philosophy our poverty ought to be a call for greater generosity, for God has promised that if we give liberally He will give liberally in return.

3. Their willingness surpassed their ability (v. 3).

God's gifts are reckoned by the degree of willingness, not by the amount given (II Cor. 8:12; 9:7).

4. They were insistent on being allowed the privilege of giving (v. 4).

They did not need to be pressed into giving. How far we have departed from the apostolic method. Today we employ the shrewdest men in financial affairs that can be found to make appeals at our missionary meetings and the dedication of our churches.

5. They first gave themselves to the Lord (v. 5).

This is most fundamental to right giving, for when one gives himself to the Lord there is no reason for withholding his gifts. If one does not give himself to the Lord there will be the desire to retain as much for self as can be done within the bounds of respectability. The only right method of raising money for the Lord is first to induce men and women to give their lives to the Lord and then to give of their possessions.

6. Emulation of Macedonian Benevolence Urged (II Cor. 8:13-15).

Moved by the generosity of the Macedonian churches, Paul desired thus to commend to the Corinthians the same grace. This grace he urged upon them, giving:

1. Not as a command (v. 8). It must be spontaneous—liberal.

2. As a proof of the sincerity of their love (v. 8). Love is more than mere sentiment; it is benevolent action toward the object loved.

3. As the completion and harmony of Christian character (v. 7).

The Corinthian church abounded in spiritual gifts such as faith, utterance, knowledge, diligence, and in love for their ministers. But the grace of liberality was needful for the harmony of their lives.

4. The self-sacrificing example of Christ (v. 9). Self-sacrifice is the test of love.

5. Because the true principles upon which gifts are acceptable with God is a willing mind (vv. 10-12). God does not estimate the value of a gift on the ground of its intrinsic worth, but the underlying motive of the giver.

6. Because of a common equality (vv. 13-15). Every Christian should give something. The law governing the gift is ability.

7. Encouragement to Give (II Cor. 9:6, 7).

1. The volume of reaping is based upon the sowing (v. 6). Those who sow sparingly cannot expect to reap bountifully.

2. There should be a heart purpose (v. 7). This calls for intelligence as to the object of giving.

3. Giving should not be of necessity (v. 7). No particular value accrues to the giver who gives through pressure.

4. God loves a cheerful giver (v. 7). The one who has the right understanding of his responsibility toward God with reference to temporal possessions will regard giving as a glorious privilege.

5. Has God to Reckon With.

There is nothing that America needs any more than the realization that she has God to reckon with.—A. W. Tozer.

6. Faith of Adherence.

When I cannot enjoy the faith of assurance, I live by the faith of adherence.—Matthew Henry.

7. The Bible.

Do you ever thank God for the Bible?—The Shantyman.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT

Italian Woman Charged With Arson. Mrs. Carmel Coudi of Rumford, indicted on the charge of setting fire to her buildings commenced her trial Wednesday and extended into Thursday.

Fire Chief Herlihy testified that on July 25th his department was called to extinguish a fire at the home of the respondent in the Italian colony at Smith's Crossing, Rumford. Peculiar circumstances led to an investigation that disclosed three places in the dwelling where kerosene-soaked paper, rags, and birch bark were found. The state showed that an insurance of $1400 had been placed on the house and $800 on its contents. Deputy Sheriff Rodier testified that his part in the investigation and interview with the respondent. Other testimony was offered about one fire there, the cause given at the time as "unknown."

The defense emphasized the peculiar actions of an eccentric man who boarded with the family and left for Italy about the time of the investigations. Witnesses told about his mummings and strange actions over money matters. The fact that Mr. and Mrs. Coudi had six small children was important evidence introduced by George A. Hutchins, attorney for the respondent.

No matter how many times styles change, a married man has as hard time now telling his wife what another woman had on as he used to have.

KEZAR FALLS

A young man by the name of Brown married in Attleboro, Mass., some few years ago, and unfortunately for the woman, the records of the town prove that the marriage was legal, as the result has been four little children born into the world and worse than fatherless. The mother of the children was in a pitiful plight when she and the children were discovered here where he had made a feat of running a chain store and had obtained a reputation for himself. Without anything to do but to take the children and only twelve cents to purchase a thing with, the breath of life had been kept in by the kindly ministrations of a neighbor who had fed them for some time before letting the facts of the case be known. Where was the renegade father? He had gone a-courting and had married again and not until the sheriff got hold of him did he realize the consequences and penalty for evil deeds. In the meantime he has had lodging at Alfred where the case is being tried. During the trial the presence of Mrs. Brown was required for several days. Mrs. Brown is not a joyous woman, rather the reverse. During her married life with Brown the bitterness of the bottomless pit must have been here so that now, when she is comparatively free from the trials, she comes with the kindness she has received from the community. Safely housed from the elements, herself and children protected, and she could murmur, as she lay upon the couch, the words were like a prayer—"I did not know there were such lovely people in the world as I have found here."

The Thursday Club, sometime in the early summer, held a picnic at the building of a receiving vault in the Riverside Cemetery by presenting the Association with one hundred and fifty dollars, the vault, and fifty, to be used in the upkeep of the cemetery.

Mrs. Mabel Black entertained the L. M. R. C. on the evening of October 18th. The following program was presented:

Singing, "Blest Be the Tie That Binds." Roll Call, "The Most Pleasant Members' Vacation."

Paper, "My Trip to Aroostook County." Discussion of Current Events.

A very enjoyable evening closing with refreshments by the hostess.

Last Sunday morning, Rev. Olin Tracy of the Methodist Church served a dinner of Communion and Holy Communion.

There are many Clubs and Organizations in this village working in unison to help one another. The motto "Live not for thyself alone" might well apply to them for they give with willing hearts and ready hands to whatever project needs their help. Working together for a common cause is the tie which cements friendships and makes the little home town of Kezar Falls the Little Star of Life to many of its inhabitants.
